The Mifflin County Comprehensive Plan is a guide for how the County will manage change in both the short term and long term for land use policies, public facilities, and services necessary to support economic growth. A key principle of the Comprehensive Plan update process is to ensure that future growth in the County is shaped with the input and guidance of all residents through a robust and inclusive outreach process.

Survey deadline
January 31st

If you have any questions or need special assistance to participate in the survey, please contact James P. Lettiere, AICP, Planning Director at (717) 242-0887.
